A correspondent of a contemporary, writing from Woodland, says that no compromise has been made there between the temperance people and the saloon keepers. All parties understand that evidence is being quietly noted and prepared, to be submitted to the Grand jury, which convenes within a month, and that all persons violating the law will be prosecuted.

About sixteen persons are at present employed at the Normal School building, under Robert McCord, general foreman. The force will be somewhat increased this week. Painters, plasterers, and grainers, and ornamental workers and finishers, are engaged now. The intention is to finish the exhibition hall in a plain style for the present, and as soon as possible, but the work therein will be taken up the last thing.

The log is about three feet in diameter.

From the Press of June 10th. We observed that the saloons were open as usual to-day (Wednesday) and that persons went in and came out of them who did not purchase five gallons of "spirituous, vinous, malt or intoxicating liquors," unless they had very spacious stomachs, for they carried no demijohns, or things of that of 1,177,313 cwts. from January and character. We would like to know what is the matter.

Owing to continued ill health, Mrs. Gove, who has had charge of the Western Union Telegraph Office here, has resigned. Those who have transacted business with Mrs. Gove will regret the necessity that compelled her to abandon the position which she so acceptably filled, and would be glad to hear of the return of her health. Miss M. E. Little, formerly assistant in the office, is now in charge of it, by appointment of the company, which is a strong evidence of approbation and cont. 'ence.

An old, experienced miner went to the place in the afternoon, and after making satisfactory examinations, declared the prospects were flattering. The discovery has caused a deal of excitement, and we are informed that a number of persons went out this afternoon to examine the gold-bearing premises.

A Tennessee Romance.

He was young, he was fair, and he parted his hair, like the average beau, in the middle; he was proud, he was bold, but the truth must be told, he played like a fiend on the fiddle. Barring his voice, he was everything nice, and his heart was so loving and tender, that he always turned pale when trod on the tail of the cat lying down by the fender. He clerked in the store, and the way that he tore off calico, jeans and brown shirting, would have tickled a calf, and made the brute laugh in the face of a quarterly meeting. He cut quite a dash with a darling mustache, which he learned to adore and cherish; for one girl had said, while she drooped her proud head that "t' would kill her to see the thing perish." On Sunday Two cases of small-pox have been church, unheeding the voice of the scorner; and demurely he sat, like a young tabby cat, with the saints in the amen corner. He sang like a bird, and his sweet voice was heard fairly tugging away at long meter; and we speak but the truth when we say this youth could outsing a hungry mosquito. She was young, she was fair, and she scrambled her hair like the average belle of the city; she was proud, but not bold, yet the truth must be told, the way she chewed wax was a pity. Barring this vice, she was everything nice, and the world admired her bustle; and the Fayetteville boys, being charmed by the noise, walked miles to hear it rustle. She cut quite a swell, did this wax-chewing belle, and men she gave them the shirk, for she loved the young clerk, who sang like a hungry mosquito. ### M. B. Duffield.

From the San Diego Union, June 10. Our Arizona telegrams inform us of tne recent killing of Maj. Milton B. Duffield, near Tucson. We have known the deceased for nearly twenty years, and his career was in many respects a remarkable one. He formerly lived near Sonora, in Tuolumne county, and he there had the reputation of being an absolutely dead shot with pistol or rifle, and consequently rather a bad man to quarrel with. In those days he had a nerve of steel, and his perfect coolness and unflinching courage carried him safely through several desperate encounters. About the spot, engaged by the contractor work at the same job, indignantly quit their employ, and now the Mon-him with the purpose of assassinating him, and who approached and fired him, and who approached and fired him simultaneously. Duffield upon him simultaneously. Duffield drew his revolver and picked off his assailants, one at a time, reserving his final shot for one who was firing upon him from the shelter of a doorway. Having disposed of the two men facing him, he wheeled about and caught the third just as he was leaning out of the doorway to fire again, the ball from Duffield's pistol striking him immediately above the heart. At the outbreak of the civil war, Duffield (who was a Virginian by birth), went East and took service as a scout in the Union army. He was subsequently made a Major in Fremont's command in Virginia. On leaving the service he received the appointment of United States Marshal where he has since made his home.

Of late years, we are informed, Maj. Duffield was somewhat dissipated in his habits, and was quarrelsome when from the fissure. In the center of the under the influence of drink, getting petrified mass it was discovered, after into frequent difficulties. His term of service as Marshal expired some five or six months ago. Latterly he was engaged in mining operations, and it was in a dispute concerning the ownership of a claim that he lost his life. The deceased was known to many citizens of San Diego. All old residents of Tuolumne county will remember him well.

Land in Los Angeles County.

THE HERALD is in receipt of a letter from a gentleman residing in Tennessee, in which the writer says he has been led to believe that the area of land adapted to cultivation in Los Angeles county is quite small. Beland is already occupied, there is but little inducement for persons of moderate means, whose occupation is the cultivation of the soil, to seek this valley. The gentleman has been misinformed in both particulars. There are over two hundred thousand acres of good corn land, needing but little irrigation and capable of producing eighty bushels per acre, in this county. There are also not less than three hundred thousand acres that will produce small grain and well adapted to the growth of semi-tropical fruit. The county is capable of supporting a million people, and it now contains less than thirty thousand. The good land is not already under cultivation, nor is one-half of it. Thousands of acres have never been disturbed by the plowshare. Good land is not held at prices beyond the reach of men of moderate means. An abundance of rich soil may be purchased at from five to fifty dollars per acre. The price of land depends not so much on the quality of the soil as its location. In the immediate vicinity of Los Angeles, land is worth from fifty to two hundred and fifty dollars per acre. But farther away, in some of the richest sections of the valley, good farms can be purchased cheap. Real estate is advancing steadily throughout the valley, and it is hazarding little to say that within the next year or eighteen months the average advance throughout the county will be at least one hundred per cent. But little land is now bought on speculation. Purchasers are generally those who contemplate becoming permanent settlers. These statements are correct, and from them our Tennessee correspondent will see that he has been misled in two essential particulars concerning Los Angeles county.

A War of Races.

Fears are entertained by many well informed persons that a war of races will be inaugurated in Louisiana before many months have passed by. A large area of the State has been desothe owners of the land again find themselves in a prosperous condition. The State is hopelessly in debt, and she cannot furnish the means of living to her starving poor. Many of the white people and all of the negroes openly pronounce in favor of repudiating all debts, State and individual. Carpet-bag rule is asserted to be the chief cause of the great financial dediation will be the issue of the election in September. The feeling of hatred between the whites and blacks is growing stronger every day, and a political crisis seems inevitable. Both sides are forming societies and secret defined contest between the whites and the blacks. The first blow will be struck in Louisiana, but the conflict will not be confined to that State. The same hatred of one race for the other is felt to a greater or less extent all over the South; and blood once shed in Louisiana, the conflict of races will commence throughout half a dozen States. This statement of the condition of affairs in the South together with what we may anticipate in the near future, is made by an agent sent out by the Government. The facts are therefore in the possession of the Administration. The reign of terror may be averted by the prompt and determined action of the Go ernment. Shall carpet-bag rule cease, or shall the South be deluged

THE San Francisco Post sends up its usual hypocritical whine over WOODHULL'S lecture. It seems strange that the Post should publish a lecture which it editorially denounces as immoral. We have read Mrs. WOODHULL'S lecture from beginning to end, carefully and critically. The language is pure, a great deal purer than that of the Post, and the argument a thousand times stronger than any it is capable of putting forth, even upon its incendiary hobbies. We cannot endorse and we may quarrel with many of Mrs. Woodhull's ideas, but we must admit that her style is clear, concise and pointed, and that her language is as free from vulgarity and coarseness as that of any lecturer we ever read after. We can remember when the Post | license has been voted, saloons confilled its columns with coarse charges | tinue ousiness as if nothing had hapagainst the "Escaped Nun," and pened and whisky is plentier than clothed those charges with language ever before. ### No Investigation.

The untiring efforts of Congressman LTTTRELL to obtain an investigation into the affairs of the Contract and Finance Company of the Central Pacific Railroad have borne no fruit beyond convincing the public that much chicanery was practiced and causing much fear and trepidation among the railroad managers. An investigation has been postponed, perhaps indefinitely postponed. No Committee will be appointed, and until the reassembling of Congress, the Central Pasides, he has heard that as the good clic people will enjoy immunity from molestation. This is probably as wise a conclusion as Congress could reach. LUTTRELL is confident that great frauds were practiced by the company, both upon the Government and the small stockholders, and his efforts to procure an investigation were earnest and praisworthy, but he has overlooked one essential feature in the programme necessary to carry out his purpose, and that is the utter impossibility of obtaining a fair and impartial investigation. Time was, when in looking into an affair of this kind, the sole purpose of the Committee was to get at the facts. No such purpose actuates the Committee as a whole now-a-days. A portion, often a majority of its members, now bend their energies to prevent the admission of evidence in any way calculated to prove the guilt of the party accused. The object is to prove the charge false, not to hear the whole case pro and con. A modern Congressional Committee of Investigation is a given number of pettifoggers, for and against the party who is accused of unjust and unlawful action. Mr. LUTTRELL ought to know, if he does not, that had he succeeded in procuring an investigation a large percentage of the Committee appointed would have been the pettifogging friends of the railroad company. He is not ignorant of the fact that the sole business of these friends would have been to cover up and hide, as far as possible, those acts of the Company that will not bear the light. Then the really honest portion of the Committee would find obstructions thrown in their way, not only by the parties accused but by a portion of their own number. Nothing satisfactory could result from an investigation conducted in this manner. Yet this is the way in which the Credit Mobilier and other investigations of similar charges, have been conducted. Better not investigate at all than to make a farce of it.

A Too Sweeping Assertion. It is a mistaken notion that the Mexicans and Californians as a whole, lated by floods and misery, and degre- or even a considerable portion of them, dation everywhere prevail among sympathize with VASQUEZ or swear the poor class of white people and | vengeance on the captors and executhe negroes. For ourselves, we think as Macbeth: "If it were done when 't is done, then 't were well it were done quickly." The man deserved to be hanged, and we are not disposed to censure those who gave him his deserts. We do not believe that any but the low class named above think or say that he would not have been hanged as he was hanged had he been an American. It is as unjust as untrue to say that the Mexican and Californian population are swearing vengeance against those who placed Romo beyond the reach of harm to others by himself, or of harm to himself by others. DISPATCHES published in the HER-ALD this morning indicate a very unsettled state of affairs in France. There seems to be but little prospect of harmonizing the different parties, and under the intense excitement that prevails, we should not be astonished to hear that a civil war is devastating Paris within the next twenty-four hours. THE Indiana Farmers' State Convention, which convened on Tuesday, adopted a resolution against a Presidential second term. This will not meet the approval of GRANT, who is now figuring for the third term. Both the Indiana and Illinois Farmers' Conventions adopted strong reform

Washington, June 12.—The conviction is spreading that the President will veto the Finance bill reported by the Conference Committee, if passed, It is stated that the President is opposed to the passage of any Finance bill until the depressing influences of the late panic shall have vanished, and Congressmen have had an opportunity for calmer consultation with their constituents. General Dix in a letter to General Grant, fully indorsed the financial plan set forth in his recent memorandum, adding that: "If the country will have the wisdom to adopt your plan, I am satisfied it will prove an effectual remedy for our financial embarassment."

About forty-five pupils were in attendance, averaging twelve and one-half years of age. Their deportment and recitations were almost nnexceptionable. ### San Diego Items.

From the Umon of June 10th. A drive through the Mission Valley have nearly all cut their grain and the fields are covered with the yellow stacks. The harvest is a splendid one; we have never seen finer looking barley. Some very fine fields of corn are seen, the luxurious growth giving certain promise of a heavy crop.

The party of citizens who left San Diego last week for the mines in Seeley's new coach, witnessed a remarkathe 7th instant. The phenomena occurred at 8 o'clock, when the stage was within two miles of Julian. One of the party describes it as follows: "The stage was suddenly lighted up with the brightness of day, when, looking out, we saw what looked like a globe of fire, apparently as large as an ordinary water-bucket, passing from east to west near the horizon. It was visible from a quarter to a half a second, illuminating all surrounding objects, and passed out of view over the summit of a hill beyond us."

Special Notices.

The tide of immigration is steadily setting in, and the first thing eastern people do is to throw away their New York Hats and buy a new one of DESMOND. They say there is no comparison between the two.

The creeks in this vicinity, says the Calistoga Press, abound in mountain trout. Almost every day the disciples of Ike Walton come in laden with the finny beauties of the brook and rill. The fight on the Local Option election, to be held July 2d, at Truckee, is waxing hot. It is thought it will not be carried, but the friends of the law are making a valiant fight. A number of swallows have built their clay houses all around the pit of the dry-dock at Mare Island, and even upon some of the machinery used in hoisting the earth out of the pit. The result of a Local Option election at Wheatland, Yuba county, on Mon-day, was for license, sixty-three; against, eighty-four.
